

Expedite the Total Loss Process with IAA's New Guidewire Marketplace Apps

August 23, 2023

SAN MATEO, Calif. & WESTCHESTER, Ill.--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Aug. 23, 2023-- Guidewire (NYSE: GWRE) and IAA, an RB Global, Inc. company (NYSE: RBA) (TSX: RBA), announced that IAA's new Ready for Guidewire validated accelerators are now available to Guidewire ClaimCenter users in the Guidewire Marketplace.

IAA is a leading global marketplace for total loss, damaged, and low-value vehicles, with solutions focused on maximizing the vehicles' values and shortening the selling cycle overall. Now, IAA Loan Payoff[®] and salvage inventory processing can be integrated with ClaimCenter to help reduce claim cycle times and costs.

With the IAA Loan Payoff Accelerator, insurers can create a new IAA Loan Payoff request, exchange documents and notes with lenders, and accept letters of guarantee within ClaimCenter. The IAA Salvage Accelerator enables insurers to assign and release a vehicle to salvage, manage documents, obtain visibility into a sale, and view vehicle images. Both accelerators allow users to easily access status updates, make updates to information, and cancel an assignment or request all within ClaimCenter.

"The total loss process can be a tedious and frustrating process for everybody involved, so we set out to find a better way," said Matt Ackley, Chief Digital Officer, RB Global. "Our solutions, marketplace, and, now, Guidewire apps, help insurers optimize many aspects of the process to make it as efficient and painless as possible."

"We congratulate IAA on the release of its new ClaimCenter apps," said Will Murphy, Vice President, Global Solution Alliances, Guidewire. "Both of IAA's apps will help our shared customers quickly manage the total loss process end-to-end without ever having to leave ClaimCenter, increasing efficiency and allowing insurers to focus on the claimant."
