- Keynotes and Overview sessions: Chief Product Development Officer Diego Devalle and other Guidewire executives and product experts will highlight development trends in the property and casualty (P&C) insurance industry, share Guidewire's plan for developer growth and success, and provide ideas for attendees to enhance their development experience.
- Deep Dive Workshops: In these interactive sessions with product experts from Guidewire and the Guidewire PartnerConnect ecosystem, attendees will dive deep into the latest Guidewire features and capabilities across the Guidewire Cloud Platform to help them unlock their potential. With real-world use cases, code samples, and live Q&A, attendees will be better equipped to apply their new knowledge to innovate and grow. Topics will include Guidewire Cloud Platform, Guidewire Data Platform, Jutro Digital Platform, Guidewire Integration Framework, Guidewire Testing Framework, Autopilot Workflow Service, and Advanced Product Designer.
- Cloud Credential Courses: During DEVSummit, up to 50 participants can complete one or two new Cloud Credentials courses: REST API Client and App Events. Each completed Cloud Credential course will include one voucher to take a proctored exam to earn their certification.
- Guidewire DEVHack 2024: DEVSummit will also feature a virtual hackathon gathering the largest network of developers in the P&C industry to showcase their skills, passion, and experience in solving real-world industry problems using Guidewire technologies.

Vice President of Engineering and Managing Director of Guidewire India Mohammed Anzy, who recently joined the company, said, "We are very excited to host the inaugural Guidewire DEVSummit. This event provides a unique opportunity for our developer community in India to connect, learn, and share the latest technologies and best practices to continue driving innovation and deliver exceptional value to our customers in the P&C Industry."

Guidewire currently has more than 300 employees across its India offices in Bengaluru and Chennai. India is also home to a vibrant community of more than 3,100 Guidewire developers who are working on the Guidewire platform at the company's partner locations.
