Magic Quadrant for SaaS P&C Core Platforms, North America (Graphic: Gartner)

This is the first year that Gartner has produced a Magic Quadrant for SaaS P&C Insurance Core Platforms for North America. The Gartner report evaluated Guidewire among 14 vendors in the property and casualty (P&C) insurance space. Read the full report.

"The SaaS adoption trend is strongest for P&C core platforms in North America. Vendors in this market have breached the SaaS inflection point, with 65% of all production deployments now on vendors' cloud offerings showing increased maturity in the market," Gartner wrote.

Insurers require transformative, business-critical systems to help them meet rapidly evolving market challenges. Gartner wrote, "Buyers need to select platforms to meet current needs, as well as ensure that the vendor and the platform offer the necessary viability and agility to meet the future needs of the enterprise, such as intelligent core applications."

"We are honored that Guidewire (InsuranceSuite) has been recognized by Gartner as a Leader in the Magic Quadrant for SaaS P&C Core Insurance Platforms," said Brian Desmond, Chief Marketing Officer at Guidewire. "We believe this recognition underscores our unwavering commitment to engineering excellence and customer success, and highlights the critical role cloud innovation plays in delivering the speed, flexibility, and scalability insurers need to drive growth and competitiveness."

Guidewire's recent momentum with InsuranceSuite includes the delivery of:

- Advanced Product Designer, a business-friendly Guidewire PolicyCenter tool enabling insurers to launch and update products quickly.
- Guidewire Data Platform, the industry's most complete P&C insurance-focused data platform providing data access, curation, and insights customers need to grow efficiently.
- Jutro Digital Platform, the first digital experience platform for P&C insurers enabling them to create unique experiences for any user, line of business, and distribution channel.
- Autopilot Workflow Service, a cloud service to orchestrate process automation to increase efficiency and improve customer, broker, and adjuster experiences.
- Analytics Manager, a cloud service enabling insurers to embed insights from analytics models into insurance workflows using codeless configuration.

More than 130 Guidewire (InsuranceSuite) customers have selected Guidewire Cloud.

Guidewire (InsuranceNow) has been recognized as a Challenger in the Gartner Magic Quadrant for SaaS P&C Core Platforms, North America.

As an insurance core platform, InsuranceNow is purpose-built for regional and super-regional P&C insurers and managing general agents in the U.S. As an all-in-one core platform, it enables insurers to quickly launch products and deliver value to producers, brokers and customers. Guidewire's recent momentum with InsuranceNow includes:

- InsuranceNow on Guidewire Cloud Platform enables customers to benefit from advanced features, self-service capabilities, and security.
- InsuranceNow GO provides prepackaged implementations for dwelling, personal umbrella, farmowners, and a commercial package policy product.
- HazardHub is a comprehensive set of property risk data, casualty risk data, and hazard risk data scoring, enabling insurers to underwrite faster and with more accuracy.
- Predict embeds insights into underwriting and claims processes with predictive analytics.

More than 44 Guidewire (InsuranceNow) customers have selected Guidewire Cloud.
