"We are honored to be recognized as a top 25 technology provider in the IDC FinTech Ranking as we partner with our customers to deliver the next generation of innovation for the P&C industry," said Jeff Cooper, chief financial officer, Guidewire. "By enhancing our cloud platform with intelligent capabilities, like AI and data-driven insights, Guidewire helps insurers automate operations, personalize experiences, and drive informed decision-making across the insurance lifecycle."

The 23rd annual ranking categorizes and evaluates the top global providers of financial technology based on calendar year revenues exclusively received from financial institutions and fintechs for hardware, software, and/or services. Guidewire and the other enterprises featured represent organizations committed to helping financial services companies successfully execute their digital transformation initiatives for the betterment of their customers across the globe.

"IDC has been producing the IDC FinTech Rankings for 23 years, providing a list of the largest 150 financial technology providers in the world," says Marc DeCastro, research director at IDC. "The companies on this list provide the innovation necessary to keep the financial service industry at the forefront of providing modern digital experiences, technologies and platforms across all banking, capital markets and insurance organizations."
